Writing

Now, I would like to explain my understanding of the ~~verb~~ proverb, "Where there is a Will there is a Way". To begin with, I've heard this proverb before and it's suitable for situations that might be intimidate and be scary to people who try to overcome the situation.

I think this proverb is quite inspirational as you can always remind yourself of it and gain self-confidence. It's also boosting your courage to do things you didn't want to do but which had to be done.

As an example I can provide a situation from my life. I had to fix my grades as it was the end of the year so this goal was quite an ordeal. I always knew that if there's a "will", so called goal, there's always a "way" to achieve it. That's why with the help of restless efforts and constant reminding myself of this proverb I was finally able to achieve my goal.

In conclusion I would like to say that the given proverb must be known by everyone so that they overcome all of the obstacles on their way to their dream. That's truly a useful proverb and I think people should find more meanings to such strong words, not only to cheer themselves up but also to expand their knowledge of the English vocabulary.
